WOODLAKE TOWERS CONDOMINIUM

Woodlake Accents

Holiday Party

The Holiday Party was not as well attended as last year, but those who attended had a good time. Judy's meatballs were a huge hit, as were the yummy desserts. Thanks to Dixie, Phyllis Aiken and Judy. If you were unable to attend, we hope to see you at our next event.

Free Xmas Tree Bags

You can pick up a Xmas tree bag free from the Reception Desk in Bldg.2. This will help keep the hallway and elevators clean.

Live Xmas Tree Disposal

When it's time to dispose of that Xmas tree, take your now-not-so-live tree to the chain link dumpster enclosure behind Bldg. 2. Please do not discard your tree anywhere else on Woodlake property. The last date to dispose of your tree will be 9AM Friday, January 9th.

Every one had a great time!

The Story Goes Something Like This...

Once there were three hogs and a wolf. The hogs each had a house, one made of straw (no lock on the door), one made of sticks (also no lock on the door), and the third was made of bricks, like Woodlake Towers, with locks on the doors! The wolf wanted to get in the houses; he was looking for (use your imagination!) and he walked right in the door of the first house and raided the fridge. Then he walked right in the door of the second house and stole somebody's nice stuff. When he walked up to the third house, the one made of bricks with locks on the doors, he motioned for someone inside to let him in, but no one did. Then he called out ever so sweetly "Pleeease let me in" but no one knew who he was and wouldn't unlock the door! And then the wolf got pissed and screamed "Hey, you jerk! Open this door so I can get in!" And the folks inside said "We don't even know who you are, so no, you are not getting in our house! Call your mama, if she lives here, and she can let you in. Got it?"

Well, pardon my stupid story, but I wanted to make a point. Our safe buildings have locks on the doors to keep us safe from wolves and weirdoes. We won't open our apartment door if someone we don't know wants to get inside, especially if he's banging on the door and says "Hey, you jerk! Let me in!" Don't fall for the stranger who wants to get in our building without his key fob. If he lives here, he's got keys. If he is just visiting, his mama (or whoever) will be buzzing him in on the Entraguard.

We are coming upon a series of holidays, all that may make many happy memories for us and our neighbors. Please don't let strangers, or someone you just don't know follow you into your home or our building. And certainly if somewolf get nasty about it, don't feel like a wuss and give in to his badgering and begging. That person needs to see is his relative or friend – or our Security Guard, - or even the Police! Your neighbors will thank you for keeping your home and their home safe and secure. Happy holidays!
